The Concept of “Value”

Customer Perspective

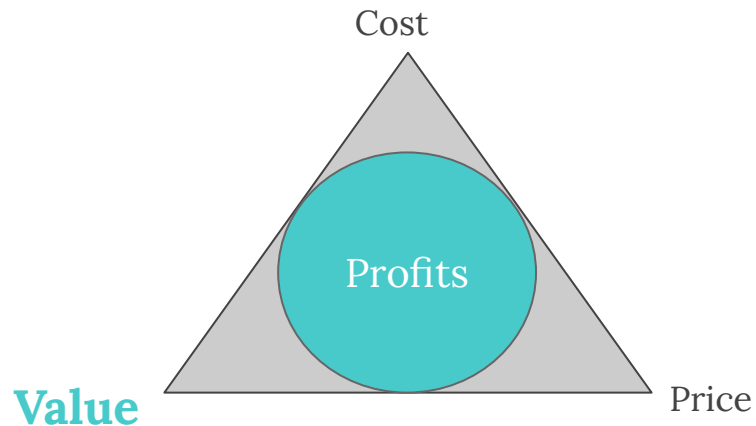

“Price is what you pay,
Value is what you think you bought*”

Company Perspective

“Value is what enables you to price higher, for higher revenues and profits”

Value is Strongly Related to Price

$$\text{Profit} = \text{Price} - \text{Cost}$$

Value is a customer thing

Simon Sinek  • Following

Optimist and Author at Simon Sinek Inc.

1d •

Value is not determined by those who set the price.

Value is determined by those who choose to pay it.

Customer Value

“In order to price your solution for a higher price, you need to create solutions for unresolved/ underserved/ undiscovered needs that customers value.”

“Apple, managed to combine high customer value with low product cost to become the most profitable company in the world.”

Value Based Innovation

“Important unmet needs that people seek to resolve is the major playground of contemporary innovation”

Opportunity

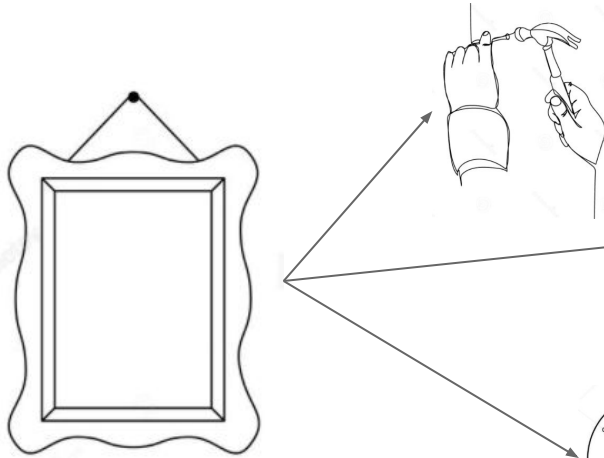

- unresolved important need
- unhappy customer
- non-customers

Where do we find those needs?

“People hire solutions to get a job done”

hang a frame on a wall

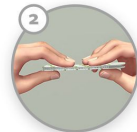

How to hang:
Command™ Picture Hanging Strips

Easy to apply!

Wipe wall with rubbing alcohol. Do not use household cleaners or water.

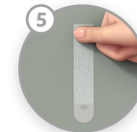

Separate strips. Click strips together.

Remove one side of liners. Stick on frame as shown. Press firmly.

Remove remaining liners. Press frame firmly to wall.

To ensure adhesive hold, temporarily remove frame from wall to reinforce strips. Press each strip on wall for 30 sec.

Wait 1 hour for adhesive to build. Align strips. Press frame until each pair of strips clicks.

Jobs are everywhere

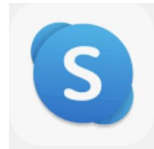

wearing clean clothes every day

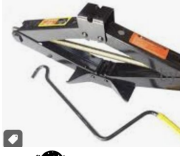

cutting wood on a straight line

working efficiently with colleagues far apart

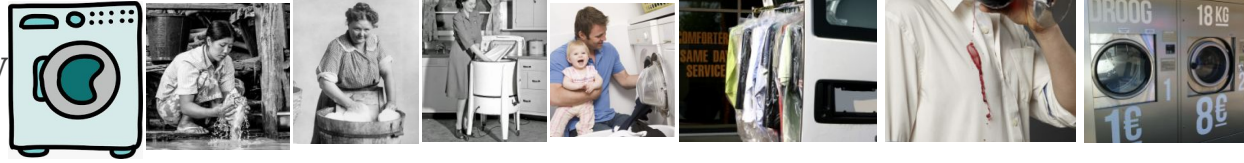

lifting a load

It is solutions that change not jobs

wearing clean clothes every day

cutting wood on a straight line

working efficiently with colleagues far apart

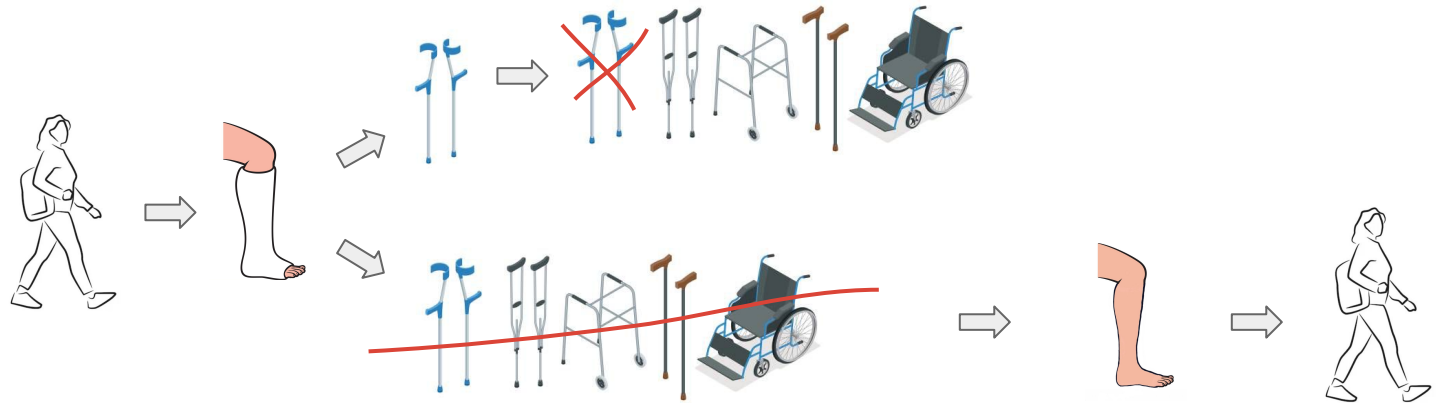

lifting a load

Where do we find those jobs?

“People change the solutions they hire when they find another solution doing the job better and cheaper”

“People dismiss a solution when the job no longer exists for them”

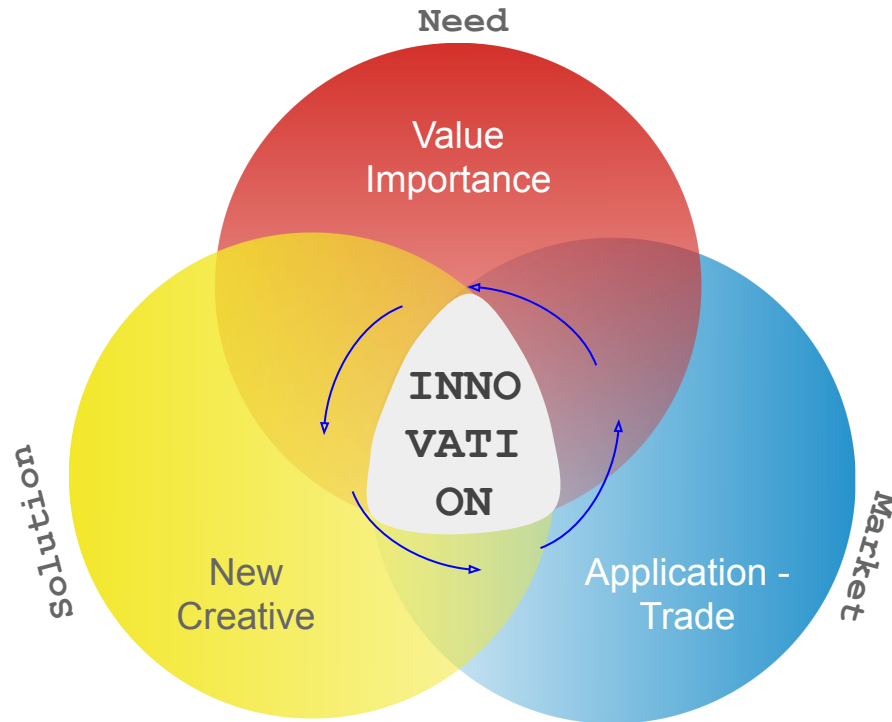

Understand and spot people who are seeking for solutions

Best choices make best results

That is what sets an innovative company apart from an ordinary company
